RSL's lone testament to Gallipoli heroes a descendent of original pine

BY ERIN PEARSON

A RARE Lone Pine sapling is commemorating Australia's 2200 Gallipoli war dead at Geelong RSL.

President Rodney Meeke said the RSL was "thrilled" to plant a descendent of the original Gallipoli Lone Pine, a cone of which returned with Australian soldiers in 1915.

"It's sensational because it represents a very important part of Gallipoli history and World War I history," Mr Meeke said.

"We've made sure we've put it as part of our latest redevelopment. It's a wonderful showpiece and we're very proud to have it."

Mr Meeke said Legacy and Geelong RSL worked on obtaining the sapling for 18 months.

The sapling had pride of place at the RSL's entrance, he said.

Four surviving seedlings of the original Lone Pine were planted around the state before Melbourne's Department of Conservation and Natural Resources took over responsibility for subsequent seedlings.

The region has two other Lone Pines at Torquay and North Geelong. Both faced threats amid golf club redevelopments but were retained amid community concern.

Legacy Geelong's John Burton welcomed the latest addition as "very significant".

City vacancies 'down'

BY JOHN VAN KLAVEREN

CENTRAL Geelong has defied winter gloom and retail woes to record a fall in the number of empty shops, according to latest research.

Richard Jenkins, of property research firm Opteon, said the vacancy rate dropped from 8.4 to 8.2 per cent in the past six months.

"These results bode well for Geelong, which is considered one of Victoria's fastest-growing regional cities," he said.

Mr Jenkins said street frontage vacancies decreased from 9.7 to 8.9 per cent.

"Certainly some retailers have struggled in line with the closure through recent administrations of Borders and Brown Sugar. However, the opening of new stores including Dimmeys and the Reject Shop has generated leasing activity.

"Interestingly, there has been a rise of one per cent to 6.1 per cent in vacancies for the more-expensive prime shops, while the vacancy rate for secondary stock fell from 13 to 11.2 per cent."

Mr Jenkins said new tenants in the central city area included Trenery, Witchery, GNC Livewell, Dimmeys and Mad Cap Cafe.

Notable departures included

Borders, Angus and Robertson, Brown Sugar, Perfume Empire, Vodafone and Renegade Republic.

"Fifty-one per cent of retail vacancy resides in premises larger than 500 square metres," Mr Jenkins said.

The Independent reported in April that Opteon believed its figures demonstrated Geelong's so-called CBD crisis was perception rather than reality.

In the latest report, Mr Jenkins said department stores still accounted for the highest amount of occupied space in the central city area at 19.8 per cent.

Clothing and footwear was next on 14.6 per cent, then food retailing at 11.9 per cent.

Opteon commercial services director Todd Devine said retailers were seeking smaller spaces.

"The onus is on landlords to consider subdividing these larger premises to attract new tenants into the CBD rather than wait for a single retailer to occupy the entire vacant space."

"While retail sales growth is modest, a number of national and international retailers continue to plan to expand, capitalising on Geelong's growing population."

Gotta have faith: Nicole Karberry and daughter Tiana, 9, take a break during the working bee.

Garden blossoms in show of faiths

BY TOM BENNETT

THE REGION'S Buddhist community now has a spectacular spring garden thanks to Geelong Interfaith Network.

The network's volunteers gave the 20-hectare grounds of Drol Kar Buddhist Centre, near Anglesea, a facelift last weekend.

Network spokesman Randall Apps said the working bee attracted 45 eager gardeners and helpers.

"Lots of work was carried out by our team. Among their activities were tree lopping, pruning, weeding and general garden and landscape maintenance."

Mr Apps said the Buddhists were delighted with the contributions by people of many faiths.

Geelong Interfaith Network formed 10 years ago in the wake of the 9/11 terrorist attacks.

The network aims to bring together people of different faiths in an atmosphere of tolerance, understanding and acceptance.

The network counts Christians, Jews, Muslims, Buddhists and Hindus among its members.

The network's next major event will be at Cunningham Pier on October 19 to commemorate the 10th anniversary of the deaths of 353 asylum seekers who died when their overcrowded boat sank near Christmas Island.

"Flowers will be thrown into the water", Mr Apps said, "one for every victim".

Cabbies on course 'for better service'

BY ERIN PEARSON

GEELONG'S taxi drivers are undertaking refresher sessions to improve services, according to their boss.

Geelong Taxi Network chief executive officer Peter Valentine said about 40 drivers a month were attending sessions since the program began in July.

The program coincides with Victorian Taxi Association (VTA) recommending compulsory monthly training for new drivers to a state inquiry. Premier Ted Baillieu has said the inquiry would investigate improving public confidence in the industry and enhancing driver support.

Mr Valentine said Geelong had its "own training regime"

"It's quite detailed for an urban or country depot," he said.

"A driver doesn't have to do anything else once they have their driver's authority because they've technically allegedly attached themselves to a network but drivers are always learning and we encourage them to come to our new refresher training."

Mr Valentine said the sessions would refresh drivers on changes to regulations, dispatch systems, safety ranks, street names and laws.

"We would also support compulsory training in Geelong. It's been on the cards for a while."

VTA chief David Samuel said the inquiry submission suggested 12-month training licences, anger and stress management courses and half-day sessions for metropolitan drivers.

"There have been a few incidents recently in Geelong, so it's very important to get on top of issues. A vast majority of drivers are great, we only receive one complaint for every 9000 trips state wide, but incidents can have a big impact on the way the industry is perceived," Mr Samuel said.

"We want to make sure new recruits are equipped to deal with situations and know what's expected of them."

"In Geelong things have been going really well for a long time - we don't want to see problems and patterns that that we've had in metropolitan Melbourne appear. We must be proactive."

Geelong ‘6000 homes short by 2020’ - HIA

BY TOM BENNETT

GEELONG faces critical housing shortages within a decade, according to a peak building industry body.

Housing Industry Association warned the shortage would reach almost 6000 homes by 2020 if building rates failed to dramatically increase.

HIA economist Geordan Murray said the disturbing forecast was based on current building and demographic trends.

“We looked at housing construction numbers for the past 20 years and extrapolated those figures into the future. We also took into account projected population increases as supplied by the Australian Bureau of Statistics.”

Mr Murray said the HIA’s method forecast a national shortage of 500,000 homes by the end of the decade.

The shortage in Surf Coast would be 774 homes and 100 in Borough of Queenscliffe.

Mr Murray said the figures would be on top of accommodation shortages already experienced in many parts of the country.

“In 2007 occupancy rates per dwelling were falling but now that trend is beginning to reverse.

that children are staying at home longer. There are also signs of a growing trend for houses to be shared by multiple families.

“These are the sort of effects the constraint of housing supply is having.”

Mr Murray welcomed recent releases of new property subdivisions in the Geelong region.

“Large estates like those at Armstrong Creek, Clifton Springs and Lara will help mitigate the problem”.

Mr Murray urged all levels of government to work with the building industry to avert the predicted housing crisis.

“Cooperation between everyone involved is the key to solving this potential problem.

“The three arms of government must support the housing industry and help deliver the aspirations of potential home owners.”

Mr Murray pointed out that 35 per cent of new-home building costs went to governments and taxing authorities.

“Taxes like the GST, stamp duty, land tax an infrastructure charges have a serious and negative effect on affordability and the potential for growth,” he said.

in brief

Storages holding

THE REGION’S water storages have remained over 90 per cent capacity after the first week of spring, according to official figures.

Barwon Water recorded the storages at 91.9 per cent this week after 12.4mm of rain in the catchment area, with the Bureau of Meteorology predicting wet weather over the next fortnight.

Jobs cut

TWENTY-five staff have lost their jobs in a “restructure” of Lara timber products company Tasco, according to managing director Bart Cawley.

He said Tasco the jobs had to go to save the company amid a “significant reduction in the quantity and quality” of logs, with supplies halved since 2010.

Palliative cash

OVER $300,000 in new funding will boost palliative care services in Geelong and on the Bellarine Peninsula, State Government has announced.

Health Minister David Davis said the money was part of a statewide package for “immediate improvements in services”, including funding for carers’ costs and after-hours support.

Water board

A GEELONG undertaker and former Liberal state election candidate has taken over as chair of the region’s water board, according to State Government.

Michael King has replaced Roger Lowrey at Barwon Water, with the Government also appointing to the board Geelong councillor Stretch Kontelj, Colac businessman David Harris and communications company operator Suzanne Batten.

Whittington talent

ASPIRING Whittington performers will vie next week for places in a suburban talent quest, Geelong’s council has announced.

Mayor John Mitchell said actor Terry Dansic would conduct a workshop before the audition next Thursday for the grand final of Whittington’s Got Talent on October 17.

Painting unveiled

GEELONG Gallery has unveiled an Arthur Streeton painting as its latest “high-profile” aquisition.

The gallery began displaying Ocean blue, Lorne on Monday after paying $230,000 for the artwork.

Roy on the Roadster to festival with restored Buick

BY TOM BENNETT

SINCE the first horseless carriage rattled its way across the cobblestones, mankind has had a love affair with the automobile.

St Leonards enthusiast Roy Cook is among the smitten.

The object of his affection is a beautifully restored 1923 Buick Roadster.

The “old girl” would make a rare public appearance at the St Leonards Festival on Melbourne Cup day weekend, Mr Cook said.

He expected her to attract many eager fans fascinated by the grand old conveyances of yesteryear.

The vintage two-seater would join a large number of other old-time vehicles to strut their “classic stuff” during the event, he said.

Mr Cook spent 15,000 hours over two decades restoring the Buick to former glory “the old fashioned way”, by hand.

“Parts I couldn’t buy, beg or otherwise acquire I made myself on a lathe in my home workshop,” he said.

The car, 12 years older than Mr Cook, had a special place in his heart.

“She reflects the simplicity and technology of a bygone era. The frame is solid timber, as is the dashboard and wheel spokes.

“The engine components are made from the highest grade steel, there are no modern alloys or space age materials used in the construction.”

By today’s standards the old Buick

Old timer: Roy Cook with his 1923 Buick.

Picture: Emily Lane 70051

is a bit of a gas guzzler, achieving an economy rate about the same as a modern-day four-wheel-drive.

Mr Cook said the vehicle returned a thirsty 14 litres per 100km, or exactly the fuel flow cited in the original owners manual.

The four-cylinder engine was rated at 14 horsepower, he said, which delivered enough grunt to send the old girl cruising down the highway at a respectable 60km/h.

And maybe that’s just fast enough for anyone hankering for a peek at the past and a trip down memory lane.

Residents in battle to defeat ‘freight hub’ plan

BY JOHN VAN KLAVEREN

LARA and Little River residents face a battle to defeat plans for an intermodal freight hub on their doorstep, a community action group says.

Lara Little River Rural Action Group president Patrick O’Halloran said the group would investigate how to have the freight hub removed from Lara’s structure plan.

“We’ve won a battle but not the war as yet,” Mr

O’Halloran said.

His group was encouraged that Planning Minister Matthew Guy had placed a hold on the project, he said.

A spokesperson for Mr Guy said facilitating the development would be “premature in view of the State Government’s proposed Avalon Airport rail link”.

A spokesperson for developer Buildev, Mark Regent, said the company had followed all planning processes “and spent about $500,000 on it”.

Mr Regent was “surprised” at an Avalon Airport bid to accommodate the hub.

“It’s a bit disingenuous on the part of Avalon that after three years planning they want to jump on back of it and get a free ride.”

Mr Regent said “various parties” appeared to have forgotten that any rail link to Avalon would have to go through Buildev land.

Stadium, library share $20m

BY JOHN VAN KLAVEREN

GEELONG'S two priority projects will receive $10 million each, Regional Australia Minister Simon Crean has announced.

The city's library and heritage centre upgrade and Skilled Stadium stage four redevelopment had both requested $15 million each from the Government's Regional Development Australia fund.

Mayor John Mitchell said both projects could be delivered despite the funding shortfall.

"Geelong getting $20 million out of $150 million available nationally is a great result," he said.

Cr Mitchell was unconcerned about the funding shortfall of $5 million for both projects.

"We'll get the library project up and running. We've already pushed the go button on looking for architects and surveyors.

"It's a win-win for everyone. As the managers of Skilled Stadium, we're happy that was funded as well.

Cats chief Brian Cook welcomed the "sensible" outcome.

"The federal funding will get us lights and the big screen, both of which are required to get more events to the stadium."

Mr Cook said the shortfall

Funding: Simon Crean.

meant the upgrade would have to go ahead without a planned sports museum, an extended public concourse and lounge area.

Sensible: Brian Cook.

Demolition of the stadium's Wade Stand would begin in late October or early November to make way for stage four.

Mr Cook said the project was still awaiting funding commitments of $3 million from the AFL and $2.5 million from City Hall.

A spokesman for Mr Crean said the final amount had been part of on-going discussions with applicants.

Geelong Regional Library Corporation head Patti Manolis said the project already had city funding of $20 million and a State Government pledge of $15 million.

"The project will see a new multi-storey state of the art 7000-square-metre library and heritage facility built.

"Facilities will include community reading areas, children's exploration and discovery zone, youth space and multimedia zones, community IT areas, library collections, community meeting rooms and an auditorium.

"It will also strengthen access to information and learning for a rapidly growing population in the Geelong region."

Mr Crean said the library project would create 299 jobs during construction and 17 jobs upon completion in December 2014.

The Skilled Stadium redevelopment would create 106 jobs during construction, he said.

Volunteers rally to aid sanctuary

BY ERIN PEARSON

ALCOA staff have swapped suits for spades to help clean up a Barwon Heads animal sanctuary after fire ripped through its koala hospital last month.

Jirrahlinga Koala and Wildlife Sanctuary Director Tehree Gordon said Alcoa volunteers spent the day weeding, planting, painting and cleaning to help put the sanctuary back on track.

The volunteers gained as much fulfillment from the day as the sanctuary, she said.

"The input from the employees at Alcoa not only assisted in building a memorial for the lives that were lost but gave our sanctuary staff a chance to help others understand our work and devastation caused by the fire," Mrs Gordon said.

"They all had such a fantastic attitude and absolutely boosted the moral of the staff here who've been very flat since the fire. We're extremely grateful because it really helped the Jirrahlinga staff move on."

Fire ripped through Jirrahlinga's koala hospital in July, killing six marsupials.

Workplace volunteering coordinator BacLinks helped put 13 Alcoa employees to work.

BacLinks' Sheree Holdsworth said both organisations wanted to help after reading about the fire.

"We strongly believe in the amazing difference that can be made through local business supporting community groups in need," she said.

"The volunteers poured their hearts and souls into the day and really made a huge difference. Jirrahlinga does such a great job rehabilitating animals and educating the community about animals, so the volunteers were all itching to help."

Worried about aged care?

Take a close look at Sunrise Supported Living

We have come to understand and acknowledge there is a better way to care for our seniors. Many Australian seniors are dissatisfied with the residential care choices available today.

Sunrise has offered a complete solution, addressing many of the inadequacies in traditional aged care. At Sunrise, residents purchase and live in their own purposely designed apartment. This quickly becomes home, as it offers the same benefits as the existing family home, but is designed with seniors needs in mind.

Of course, personal choice, dignity, privacy and individuality are still enjoyed and valued as a part of daily life.

Sunrise ensures that residents retain the same high quality lifestyle that they have always enjoyed. Sunrises' residents benefit from enjoying the companionship, freedom and security normally found in a retirement village, with the personal 24-hour care normally only provided by aged care facilities. Each Sunrise apartment is fully self-contained with lounge/dining area, bedroom, bathroom and washing machine. All are bright and airy with their own courtyard.

The kitchens are fully appointed, with convection microwave, cook top, range hood and fridge.

Residents who enjoy cooking at home, sometimes don't feel like cooking. Simply, they can choose to join the other residents in the Sunrise dining room, where delicious and nutritious meals are provided at a minimal cost.

For couples, the thought of being separated is heartbreaking. The Sunrise advantage for couples is the ability to remain together and not to be separated as often happens in the traditional aged care system.

Sunrise takes care of daily chores, such as maintaining the community grounds and facilities, to allow residents to get on with life. Our carers are always available to help out with daily housekeeping chores such as cleaning, washing and ironing.

Whatever level of assistance you choose it can be provided.

Everyone here is free to enjoy their homes and community facilities in the peace and quiet they deserve. Residents and their families can rest easy in the knowledge that care is always on hand at Sunrise. Fully qualified and experienced carers are available day and night, whenever required, to provide assistance in the privacy of the resident's own home. A Registered Nurse is also available whenever required to provide regular health checks, wound and skin care, injections, palliative in home care, medication management, etc.

By providing professional care to elderly or frail residents in their own home, Sunrise allows residents to remain as independent as possible for as long as possible.

Now, there is a Sunrise near you, at Grovedale, call 1300 665 720 for details.

First meter goes to 'fearless' family

BY JOHN VAN KLAVEREN

JO SCOTT'S three children are all energy conscious, so becoming Geelong's first family to receive a smart meter was "exciting".

"The children thought it was the best thing ever. They looked through the information pack with me," Mrs Scott said.

"They've all learned about saving energy at school, so they're going to do the meter reading for me. Daniel is already running around the house turning off all the lights."

Mrs Scott said the Grovedale family was keen to know just how much power it used.

Powercor plans to install 110,000 of the controversial meters in its service area.

The company said the meters would end estimated billing while offering faster fault detection and response.

Mrs Scott brushed off other consumers' concerns about bigger bills or radiation from the meters.

"We're happy to embrace new technology and saw no dangers or health issues."

Retail eyes on old Ford land

BY JOHN VAN KLAVEREN

ZONING changes have revived plans for a bulky goods retail centre on a former Ford site in North Geelong, according to Beacon Lighting chief Ian Robinson.

Mr Robinson said he would move his Beacon Lighting store to the other side of Melbourne Rd as part of any retail redevelopment of the Ford land.

State Government's changes to zoning rules for bulky goods retail created an opportunity to "revisit" plans for retailing on the site.

The previous government scuttled plans for a retail centre, HomeTown, with a 2008 ruling the land might be needed for industrial expansion.

But the changes include allowing retailing in industrial zones, extending the list of business able to operate under the bulky goods rules and lowering the minimum store size.

"The changes will encourage developers to go ahead with further developments because they'll have a bigger pool of potential tenants to draw from," Mr Robinson said.

"It's still up to council and the local community to decide but it's a chance for people to revisit the idea. It was discouraged because it was on light-industrial land but that's a silly restriction."

Bulky Goods Retailers Association head Phillipa Kelly said the changes would stimulate "millions of dollars" of investment in Victoria.

The former Market Square Shopping Centre manager said a significant proportion of the investment would be in the Geelong region.

Super Retail group director Peter Birtles said the changes could help his company open new stores here.

The group, including Super Cheap Auto, BCF, Rays Outdoors and Gold Cross Cycles, planned two more stores in the region.

"This opens up sites not under previous consideration, especially for our Gold Cross brand which wasn't really viable under the restrictions."

"It means developments can have a number of retailers apart from just the big box stores and will make them into seven day a week centres instead of shoppers mainly coming out on weekends."

Geelong councillor Rod Macdonald, who holds council's planning and economic development portfolios, welcomed the changes.

"A number of organisations are looking for sites in the region and were facing issues around whether their proposal constituted a legitimate use," he said.

Daryl seeks 'angels' to help Light the Night

BY CHELSEA KENNEALLY

LIGHT the Night is "calling on all angels" to help brighten the lives of cancer victims.

The annual national event will use lanterns stylised to represent love, life and hope to raise money and awareness for Leukaemia Foundation.

The foundation will use the proceeds to help find cures for leukaemia and other blood cancers and to support patients and families.

Geelong's Light the Night will be at Steampacket Gardens on September 14.

Daryl King said his role as a Light the Night ambassador was "a bit of a privilege".

Mr King was diagnosed with leukaemia in March, 2009.

He will light a white lantern at this year's Light the Night to celebrate his remission.

Privilege: Daryl King

Mr King said he would reflect on his journey with cancer.

He still struggled with fatigue and had to keep a watch on his health as other problems arose, he said.

Light the Night meant "a huge amount" to Mr King.

"You go there to speak to people who have been through the same thing as you and they're the only people who understand what you're going through or have been through. It's a terrible way to meet some of the most fantastic people that you could come across."

Mr King said he was extremely grateful for the Leukaemia Foundation's support.

He urged participation in Light the Night.

"The best thing the public can do to help the Leukaemia Foundation is to donate what they've and offer support to people who have gone through this and their families."

Mr King said anyone interested in sponsoring him or participating in Light the Night could phone 1800 500 088 or visit lightthenight.com.au.

Seat 'safe' for MP amid Gillard woe

BY TOM BENNETT

LABOR Member for Corangamite Darren Cheeseman believes he will retain his marginal seat at the next federal election despite his strong support of embattled Prime Minister Julia.

Mr Cheeseman said he was "strongly confident" of holding Corangamite despite Ms Gillard's poor showing in the latest polls.

Newspoll this week put the Prime Minister's personal approval rating at 23 per cent, the second lowest on record.

Mr Cheeseman said he was "staunchly supportive" of Ms Gillard despite the polls and speculation of a leadership change. He was the first Australian federal MP to publicly back Ms Gillard's prime ministerial credentials in the lead up to her replacement of Kevin Rudd last year.

Mr Cheeseman was confident his alliance with Ms Gillard would not cost him votes in at the next election.

"The PM is looked on very favourably in the electorate as she is throughout Victoria".

Mr Cheeseman said Corangamite would remain in Labor hands despite being one of Australia's most-marginal electorates.

"The seat is not in jeopardy.

"We'll come back from this (current voter dissatisfaction) to win the seat and the government".

Mr Cheeseman described the latest polls as "pretty meaningless" given the next federal election was due in 2013.

But he conceded the figures reflected community concerns over the Gillard Government's handling of issues including immigration, the proposed carbon tax and the Craig Thompson credit card affair.

"I see a lot of concern and anxiety out there among the voters," Mr Cheeseman said.

"But when we sit down and explain our agenda to them they become much more supportive of us".

Mr Cheeseman said the Government's fortunes would change once it had "bedded down" key initiatives such as immigration reform, its climate change package and the proposed mining tax.

He believed the Government faced an "extremely trying and difficult time".

"We still have a lot of hard work to undertake but, despite everything, Julia Gillard is still the best person to lead the nation.

"She's undertaking a very significant program of economic and social reform.

"The polls are not good but, in any case, the Prime Minister is not poll-driven."

MUNICIPAL FIRE MANAGEMENT PLAN

COMMUNITY CONSULTATION

The City has a legislative requirement to have a Municipal Fire Management Plan (MFMP). The purpose of this document is to provide a strategy for the coordination of fire prevention measures.

The City is currently seeking feedback on its draft Municipal Fire Management Plan. The draft document has been created by the Municipal Fire Management Committee which consists of representatives from across Council together with many representatives from outside agencies.

One important aspect of implementing the MFMP is to engage the community so that they have opportunity to have input into the fire management planning process. It ensures that the City's MFMP responds to the community's needs, values and perceived risks.

Submissions are welcome before 5.00pm Friday 30 September 2011.

Written comments may be submitted online on our website www.geelongaustralia.com.au/council/yoursay or alternatively post your comments to:

Seeking blessings: An artist's conception of the church redevelopment.

Objectors seeking new church plans

BY JOHN VAN KLAVEREN

OBJECTORS have lodged arguments against proposed redevelopment of a historic Geelong church, according to a council spokesperson. The spokesperson said the six objections cited concerns about how the plans for an 80-seat cafe would affect the historical significance and building integrity of the 1865 Mt Zion Particular Baptist Church. Last week's Independent revealed the redevelopment bid last week, including its plans to use the Lt Ryrie St church's baptismal font as a "water feature". Geelong councillor Barbara Abley said Heritage Victoria issued a permit for the works despite the concerns of City Hall officers. "Council comment is sought by Heritage Victoria prior to a decision being made on any heritage permit application they consider," Cr Abley said. "Officers provided heritage advice and raised a number of concerns with the development, in particular, the projecting canopy that is to return around the front of the building and the removal of the original windows and replacement with large aluminium framed doors. Officers recommended that both of these aspects be reconsidered. "Unfortunately, Heritage Victoria issued a permit endorsing the proposal, therefore seeming not to have agreed to any of the changes suggested." Cr Abley said the planning application for the site included an on-premises liquor licence. Council officers were considering the licence application, she said. The National Trust's Jennifer Bantow confirmed her organisation had lodged objections. Mrs Bantow said Heritage Victoria should have advertised the proposal instead of granting a permit without asking for a "more-sympathetic" approach. A Heritage Victoria spokesperson said one of its officer "clarified" council's concerns before determining that the plans did not impact the church's heritage values. The church's return canopy design was renegotiated and altered in the final plans, the spokesperson said.

Speed demons driving Norm

Shattered Lives Our hidden road toll

BY JOHN VAN KLAVEREN

BANNOCKBURN'S Norm Robinson is in no doubt about the effectiveness of speed cameras.

"The only people who worry about speed cameras are those who get caught," the road safety campaigner declared.

Norm was thrust into the road safety spotlight after losing his son Luke in a high-speed collision at Lovely Banks last year.

Luke's family, friends and emergency services workers who attended the accident participated in a TAC advertising campaign called The Ripple Effect.

"What we want to do is change attitudes toward speeding," Norm said.

"It doesn't matter if it's one kilometre or 10, you're still over the speed limit.

"A lot of people don't think its breaking the law. If there's been an assault the community wants punishment but when it comes to speeding many don't accept the fine.

"Speed cameras are there to change the driver's mindset."

Norm regularly visits schools and football clubs to share his pain, all the greater last weekend during his second Father's Day without Luke.

"It's an emotional roller coaster every day but the milestone days have ten-fold the emotional impact," Norm said.

"It was Luke's first accident and, ironically, he was known as the nanny driver - he was always the designated driver.

"I get to speak to a lot of people through what I do now. You try anyway you can to get the message through.

Shattered: Leanne, Jai and Norm Robinson.

Lost: Luke Robinson.

"Education and awareness-raising is what we're about; giving young people the tools to make right decisions

"If Luke had been through something like that he may not have made that stupid decision to speed.

"I think we're getting the message through to some of them, we're making some sort of a difference.

"We try to think of what might have worked on Luke."

Norm said a speeding fine could act as a warning, particularly to a young driver.

"One idea we had was to have every P-plater who received a speeding ticket write a letter to mum and dad explaining why.

"I know some will say we run into privacy issues but this is just between parents and child.

"Instead of hiding the fact we've got to break the attitude of trying to keep it quiet.

"Young drivers need to be able to speak to their parents about this and understand the consequences we face every day."

NATIONAL SYSTEM
FOR COMMERCIAL VESSEL SAFETY

We invite you to help shape a safer maritime industry for Australia.

From January 2013 the Australian Maritime Safety Authority (AMSA) will become the National Regulator for commercial vessel safety in Australian waters.

A new National System, currently under development, will streamline maritime safety laws and make it easier for seafarers and their vessels to work around Australia without barriers.

The Australian Government, in partnership with State and Territory Governments, invites you to attend consultation open days across the country to:

- obtain further information on the proposed new National System
- share your ideas and comments.

Please drop in to the consultation open day between the hours of 2pm-5pm on Friday 23 September at Four Points by Sheraton: Geelong, 10-14 Eastern Beach Road Geelong

For more information on the National System please go to www.amsa.gov.au and follow the link to the National System for Commercial Vessel Safety or call (02) 6279 5000.

Club sets sail for fun on bay

Join the club

JOHN VAN KLAVEREN

LANDLUBBERS have always been welcome at Corio Bay Sailing Club.

The family-oriented group of keen sailors is happy to share hard-won lore with anyone drawn to the sea.

But it hadn't always been plain sailing for the club, confessed resident old salt Arthur Poundsett.

"Our membership tends to bob up and down a bit, so we're keen to get a few more interested sailors to join us," he said.

Arthur has been launching boats at the club's Limeburner's Lagoon ramp, just behind Geelong Grammar School, since 1972 when the club was founded.

Arthur assured that anyone could learn the ropes in an afternoon.

"Learning to race can take a bit longer but other than that it's a very relaxing sort of sport," he said.

"It's a non-contact sport - unless you forget to duck for the boom," Arthur laughed.

"But you soon learn about that - it only takes once."

Arthur said most kids enjoyed picking up the sailing basics.

"Out on the bay you can get blown over by a gust, so you learn to keep a weather eye out, become more alert and read the conditions.

"You become more self-sufficient and it adds to your confidence."

"It's the feeling of freedom; just man versus the elements, the sea and wind - that's the main attraction."

Arthur no longer sails himself - he's 89 after all - but the master mariner hasn't let age take the wind out of his sails. He still acts as the club's vice-commodore, timekeeper and handicapper.

He even showed the cut of his jib by writing a computer program allowing him to enter race results and produce handicaps for the next race.

The club usually runs Heron class and OK Dinghy races suitable for both adults and juniors.

The club boasts one member, Peter Yates, who was selected in an Australian team at the world sailing championships.

The club starts its regular Sunday races next month, with the season usually running until April next year.

The clubhouse boasts facilities like a barbecue area, boat storage and showers.

Arthur said more information was available by phoning him on 5278 2160 or club secretary Anna Goksoyr on 0405 081 781.

PARKING IN CENTRAL GEELONG

The City of Greater Geelong has introduced more longer-term parking spaces in Central Geelong from this Sunday.

The changes will mean more all day, four-hour and three-hour on street parking spaces will be available in areas adjacent to the inner core of Central Geelong.

The southern side of Richie Boulevard is capped at $4 all day whilst other areas in the upper north east corner of Central Geelong including Eastern Beach Road and Brougham Street are capped at $5 all day.

All day on street car parks are available at no charge in precincts at each 'corner' of Central Geelong;

- North West – including parts of Malone Street, Smythe Street, Brougham Street and Western Beach Road (west of Gheringhap Street)
- North East – including parts of Corio Street, Malop Street and Little Malop Street (east of Bellarine Street)

- South West – including parts of Little Myers Street, Myers Street and Little Ryrie Street (west of Fenwick Street)
- South East – including parts of Little Myers Street and Bellarine Street

Additional all day paid car parking spaces are available at Eastern Beach Road and Richie Boulevard, Brougham Street and Bellarine Street (north of Malop Street)

Four-hour and three-hour paid on street car parks are concentrated to the north and south of the inner core of Central Geelong including Eastern Beach Road, Brougham Street and Richie Boulevard in the north and Little Ryrie Street, Market Street, Myers Street and Yarra Street in the south.

Details of the new parking arrangements are available on the City's website at www.geelongaustralia.com.au

BUCKETS to brazen thieves who stole our solar lights from our front garden. We only just moved to Leopold in July and were trying to take pride in our garden. What an unwelcome surprise!

Disheartened, Leopold

BOUQUETS to Joshua at Newtown's post office. He is respectful and smiling when servicing elderly people. Joshua is a good example to other young people in Geelong. Bouquets also to his parents for educating him so well. God bless you all.

Erna, Newtown

BUCKETS to lead-foot bus drivers who accelerate too fast and brake too hard. Please slow down a little to a moderate speed so passengers have a smoother, more-comfortable ride. It does not matter whether you are five minutes late at the bus stop because I've got all day.

Neil, Geelong West

BOUQUETS to Geelong Library centre staff who couldn't do enough to help a gentleman new to the city with finding a cure for his uncle's blindness. It was a shame about having to pay $2.50 to save the planet rather than having free plastic bags for books.

Stephen, Norlane

BUCKETS to bogan jet-ski riders. You apparently passed the licence test, so you should know how far away you have to stay from other vessels. Have some consideration and stay they hell away from people trying to enjoy some peace and quiet. And to think it's not even summer yet.

Angler, East Geelong

BOUQUETS to a kind gentleman who helped my husband at the Barwon Heads APCO service station after he inadvertently filled his car with diesel instead of petrol. The man's quick thinking and help to move the car was appreciated, so I hope he reads this belated thank you.

So Grateful, Barwon Heads

BUCKETS to Business Owner (Buckets and Bouquets, September 2). If you have a problem with parking inspectors booking cars breaking rules outside the hospital, blame council, not the poor inspectors. Most of the fines are for hospital visitors anyway, so it's their fault if they park longer than their limit.

Grey Ghost, Highton

BOUQUETS to Vicroads' Trish and Debbie for being such a pleasure to deal with when trying to sort out a vehicle registration problem. Thanks so much for your kind assistance. Keep up the good work.

Max Action Vehicles, Corio

BOUQUETS to Happy Mum (Buckets and Bouquets, September 2). Yes, City of Greater Geelong family day care is great. When my child didn't settle in at a large centre I looked into the City's care. My child is now happy and thriving with the personalised care.

Another Happy Mum, Corio

BUCKETS to the staff in two shopping stores and to a concierge who couldn't help a tidy, cleanly shaven, scholarly gentleman who politely requested $2 for a ticket machine after over-spending his ticket money. Buckets also to the people who looked on at the machine.

Shame Geelong, Norlane

BOUQUETS to the RACV, especially tow truck driver Darren. At 63 years of age, I would have been stuck without them. I was quoted a wait of 60 minutes but Darren arrived after five minutes. He was a gentleman, courteous and helpful.

Stranded, Belmont

Dry winter ends

AUGUST was Geelong's driest month for the year so far.

The Breakwater racecourse weather station recorded just 19.6mm compared to Geelong's 49mm average, meaning August was within the lowest 10 per cent recorded rain for the month since records began in 1871.

The driest August was in 1982 when only 10mm was recorded at North Geelong.

Most of the region was well down, with the Otways only receiving about 50 to 60 per cent of the average. The Bellarine Peninsula was similarly affected and the Bannockburn and Lara areas were even drier.

Winter rain was around 80 per cent of the long-term normal, predicted accurately by Bureau of Meteorology in its three-monthly outlook - itself an unusual occurrence.

Winter rain at Geelong totalled 110mm across the urban area compared to the 30-year normal 140mm.

Thanks to the bureau's figures we can also see that the new Breakwater station's urban location tends to record temperatures at this time of year around .6C warmer than its predecessor at Geelong Airport. The Breakwater figures for August of 6.4C for minimums and 16.6C for maximums seem to show a warmer month by around half a degree, so full comparisons will be impossible until a new normal can be calculated.

Given the lack of interest in Geelong's ongoing weather record at official levels, this is highly doubtful.

Geelong gig one for the Birds

BY ERIN PEARSON

MUSIC fame is all about rock and riches for Australian band Birds of Tokyo.

The four-piece recently returned from France, where members dined on red wine and garlic snails, to launch a 22-date Closer tour across Australia.

Drummer Adam Weston told the Independent Birds of Tokyo had ventured away from its Sydney recording studio to the picturesque surrounds of France to work on the next album, due for release some time in 2012.

"We spent hours discussing and arguing where we'd go next musically," Weston revealed.

"We had a creative itch that needed to be scratched but we're very pleased to be back in Australia and getting ready to hit the road."

Weston said the band was looking forward to getting back to its roots.

"None of us predicted that this band would be a regular touring act," he laughed.

"But we now have a solid fan base that's dying to see us tour again."

"This time around though, there are certainly a handful of places we've never had the chance to hit before."

"With the madness of putting out three records in four years and constantly being on the road, it's a great opportunity to get back to these towns that we haven't really touched on."

Weston said the band's biggest challenge now was "breaking the mould" of radio pop, a style that lifted Birds of Tokyo's hit single Plans to the top of the charts.

Each member was determined to fight off their number-one-hit demons to stay true to their alternative rock style, he said.

"By no means are we going to let songs like Plans and Wild at Heart stylistically brand the band or its content direction."

"I think it's going to be a challenge for us to know what we want to steer away from and achieve a result of music that has depth."

"We've been playing around with a lot of textual soundscapes and this time we really want to get further down the rabbit hole."

Birds of Tokyo will perform songs off its self-titled album at Geelong's Eureka Hotel on September 25.

Classics run on Diesel in new tour

BY ERIN PEARSON
MULTI-award-winning rocker Diesel is bringing back secret classics from Jimmy Hendrix and Neil Young on his latest whirlwind solo tour.

Diesel, alter ego of Mark Lizotte, has sold in excess of 800,000 records since hitting the Australia's music charts around 25 years ago.

After first finding fame with Perth's Johnny Diesel and the Injectors, Lizotte's career has taken him to all four corners of the globe as part of his band and as a solo artist.

He went on to record with brother-in-law Jimmy Barnes and fellow artists Richard Clapton and Vika and Linda Bull before taking out the ARIA's best male artist three years running.

Lizotte told the Independent his latest project was an album dedicated to his musical influences and his own classics.

He promised the album, Under the Influence, would be a showstopper.

"With each record it's a different feeling," Lizotte said.

"A record creates an environment, an ambience, when you're playing songs from it. It's like you've got new furniture in the house, things you kind of notice."

"With this album, as I get to each town I'll be unleashing new stuff."

Lizotte admitted tackling the likes of Hendrix and Young added "much pressure" but assured fans the songs he chose to record were his own takes on each classic.

"This record's a very natural progression for me because it's music that shaped my own career," he said.

"These are songs I attempted in my bedroom as a teen before I even started playing in bands, so it's like going back there with a bit more knowledge and ability."

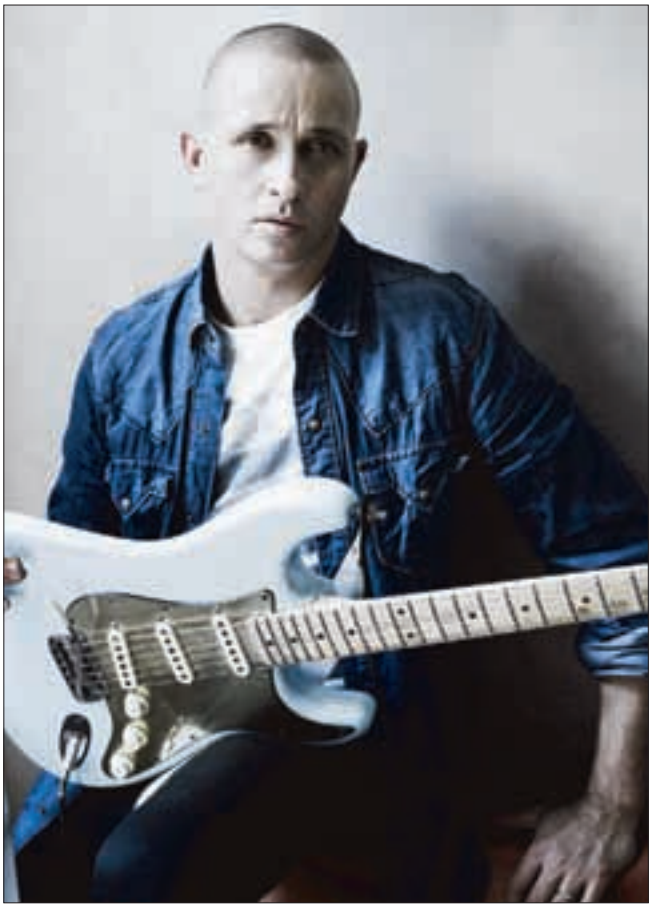

"It's a nice feeling."

Lizotte said his biggest challenge was selecting the perfect hits to play on tour.

"I have songs people always want me to play but it's great to have new stuff people haven't heard before. The challenge now is trying to squeeze 13 records into one show - it's hard."

"I can't complain, it's a nice problem to have."

"I didn't pick songs though that people know, the artists-generic

Influenced: Diesel's Gateway gig will feature the classics of musicians such as Jimmi Hendrix and Neil Young.

songs like Purple Haze or Foxy Lady, I picked ones that are my favourites.

"I think people need to know these songs - they're all just gold to me."

Diesel plays Corio's Gateway Hotel on September 24.

White Eagle House has facilities for all family members.

Chisel in house

White Eagle House offers top-quality food and entertainment seven days a week, with diners set to enjoy their meals to the music of one of Australia's favourite bands next month.

The Cold Chisel tribute show will feature talented musicians playing the Chisels' greatest hits and favourite B-sides in a night of music to delight die-hard fans of this great Australian band.

The show will be an opportunity for patrons to yell "Play Khe Sanh" and have the band actually come through with a loving rendition of the classic request.

The Cold Chisel tribute show will be at White Eagle House on October 22.

Tickets for dinner and the show cost $55 each or $40 for the show only.

Diners will be able to enjoy a variety of house specialties including veal scaloppini, 500-gram T-bone steaks and various seafood dishes.

Children can enjoy a dedicated play area, while other entertainment for adults includes darts and pool table facilities as well as live music every weekend.

On the first Saturday of each month White Eagle House puts on a spectacular dance event.

On Monday and Thursday nights the venue hosts Geelong Rock and Rollers Club.

White Eagle House is open from 10am to midnight Monday and Tuesday, until 1.30am Wednesday to Saturday and to 11.30pm Sundays.

The venue can also cater for small and large functions of up to 500, with plenty of free on-site parking available for guests.

White Eagle House is at 46-48 Fellmongers Road, Breakwater, phone 5229 1009.

Know Your Local Tattooist

The popularity of tattoos these days means there are a lot of people interested but who don't really know how it works. But Prestige Ink owner Daniel Roach says the best way is to pop into his local Belmont studio for a chat.

"We understand that it can be a big decision to get a tattoo, so it's important to us that we provide the best customer service possible.

"We're happy to explain the process to anyone who is a bit unsure," he says. Daniel recommends prospective clients visit Prestige Ink to make their bookings.

"It's important that we spend the right amount of time with clients to ensure they leave with something they're happy with," he says.

Prestige Ink also ensures peace of mind by using only single-use equipment in sterilised blister packs, eliminating the risk of cross-contamination. The creative team at Prestige Ink can design tattoos to suit customers or work off a pre-designed image.

"No job is too big or small," Daniel promises. "We can guide someone through the design process or show them any of our 10,000 designs.

Prestige Ink also has free car parking at the rear of the shop.

Gentlemen are encouraged to dress up for the ladies at the Sphinx's Time Warp Fridays.

Sphinx 'in '80s warp'

North Geelong's Sphinx Hotel will go back in time this Friday for a groovy take on the '80s.

Time Warp Friday's at The Cazbar will offer a fun-filled environment for the over-30s market.

Owner George Ramia says the night will be a classy evening complete with '80s arena rock and décor to match.

"We want to offer a place where the over 30s crowd can go and feel comfortable and also get to listen to a great band," George says.

"Women love to dress up, so we'd like the men to make an effort as well.

"There has already been a lot of interest in the event and we've had calls and emails from around 120 people already.

"We're hoping to make this a monthly event."

Classic rock cover band Glam Slam will provide the entertainment, featuring the songs of KISS, Bon Jovi, Van Halen, Poison and Warrant complete with lights, lasers, and pyrotechnics.

"People are sick are going out and seeing their kids out after hours or their kids' friends, so we're trying these nights out," George says.

"Most people we spoke to also want the night to be a bit dressier than the average night out at the pub.

George says entry to Time Warp Fridays will cost $12.

The Sphinx also offers a Pharaohs Bistro, Sportsbar/TAB, a nightclub Fridays and Saturdays, a function room for up to 350 guests, hotel accommodation and a drive-through bottle shop.

Bookings are available by phoning 5278 2911.

READER'S RECIPE

INGREDIENTS (Serves 4)

- > 1 tablespoon olive oil
- > 1 small brown onion, finely chopped
- > 1 garlic clove, crushed > 500g lean beef mince
- > 1 teaspoon ground cumin > 1 teaspoon smoked paprika
- > 1/4 teaspoon chilli powder > 400g can diced tomatoes
- > 1 red capsicum, chopped > 2 tablespoons tomato paste
- > 1/3 cup beef stock
- > 300g can red kidney beans, drained, rinsed
- > 1/2 cup coriander leaves, chopped
- > 8 flour tortillas (see note) > 3/4 cup grated cheddar cheese
- > sour cream and salad leaves, to serve

method

1. Preheat oven to 200°C. Heat oil in a large frying pan over medium-high heat. Add onion and garlic. Cook, stirring occasionally, for 5 minutes or until onion is tender. Add mince. Cook, stirring, for 3 minutes or until browned.
1. Add cumin, paprika and chilli powder. Cook, stirring, for 1 minute or until aromatic. Add tomatoes, capsicum, tomato paste and stock. Bring to the boil. Reduce heat to medium-low. Simmer, uncovered, for 10 minutes or until sauce is thickened. Stir in beans and coriander.
1. Warm tortillas following directions on packet. Divide beef mixture between tortillas. Spread along centre of tortillas. Roll up to enclose filling. Place in a large, greased baking dish. Sprinkle with cheese.
1. Bake for 10 minutes or until cheese melts and burritos start to brown. Serve with sour cream and salad leaves.

KRISTY ARCHER has been in the hair and beauty business for more than a decade but she still goes back to school on a regular basis.

In fact, Kristy, who runs the successful Kristy's On Pako salon in Newtown, says she's always learning new aspects of her chosen profession.

"The retraining process is never-ending, particularly if you want to keep up with the latest cuts, styles and techniques", she says.

Kristy recently undertook a special training course on Brazilian keratin, a revolutionary treatment for frizzy and unmanageable hair.

Being able to offer this treatment has won her many new fans and customers.

Kristy also recently become expert in the application of the Balayage colour system.

"It's a French system that looks particularly attractive on medium-length hair that's slightly wavy or curly", she says.

Demand for Kristy's expertise has seen her business grow to the extent that she's had to take on a couple of helpers.

Sam Betts and Caitlyn Gratton have been welcomed into fold.

When it comes to the hair care and beauty treatments, Kristy's On Pako has become a genuine one-stop shop.

A full range of hair care options is available, including, cuts, hair-ups, colourings, foils, perms and specialist treatments.

Access to a visiting beautician is also available, with services including nails, waxing, facials, make-up and spray tans.

Kristy says she has attempted to make the whole business of personal care as easy and hassle-free as possible.

"And I think I'm succeeding", she says.

Kristy would like to welcome Sam and Caity to the team at Kristy's on Pako

Month of rainbow hair to promote foster care

Community Connections is encouraging people to wear rainbow hair in September for Foster Care Month.

Community Connections' Renee Gaulke says thousands of children around the state need foster care every night.

"During September we're partnering with local businesses to sell rainbow hairpieces to promote foster care."

Packs of the hairpieces with foster care information will be stocked at various outlets and schools.

"We hope the campaign will increase public awareness of the need for foster care and encourage people to find out more about becoming a foster carer," Renee says.

Centre for Excellence in Child and Family Welfare is supporting local agencies to run the campaign.

As part of the campaign, Community Connections' Foster Care Program in partnership with Geelong agencies has included the rainbow hair logo on the sides of three Benders buses for the month.

Renee says the aim is to raise awareness of foster care.

A list of Rainbow Hair for Foster Care events and locations where hairpieces and information are available is at www.fosterabrighter-future.com.au.

More information on becoming a foster carer is available by phoning Renee or Cheryl Flanagan at Community Connections on 1300 361 680 or by visiting www.comconnect.com.au.

You Turn turning around young lives

You Turn has turned around the lives of many young people since opening in Geelong just over three months ago.

When Diversitat took on You Turn it wasn't just about saving the valuable program, it was about providing a network of support and opportunities for youth in the Geelong region.

You Turn offers students hands-on experience in the automotive industry through fully accredited units in VCAL and vocational preparation.

The students experience two rotations, learning the ins-and-outs of mechanics, panel beating and spray painting.

The 10-week course involves eight weeks in the program's modern, fully equipped auto workshop with state-of-the-art equipment and highly skilled teachers.

Once the students have completed the workshop component they have the opportunity for two-week supported work placement followed by supported pathways into further education, employment or training.

A recent graduate of the program, Dylan, described how it changed his life, giving him new-found passion and confidence in his ability.

A welfare worker at Dylan's school suggested he should try You Turn because he was disinterested in school and disengaged from education.

On his first rotational assessment, in spray painting, Dylan was surprised at his achievement, receiving excellent marks in all areas.

Dylan continued this level of dedication continued through his other two assessment areas of mechanics and panel beating.

On graduation he received a Ford Encouragement Award for outstanding work.

Dylan is turning his life around with help, mentoring and caring feedback from the You Turn staff.

He has gone from school truant to having an excellent opportunity of an apprenticeship with a mechanic.

Youths interested in the program can phone the You Turn team on 5277 1710.

FOSTER CARE REQUIRED FOR CHILDREN & YOUNG PEOPLE

Have you got a spare weekend each month?

Community Connections is a non profit community based organisation providing a range of human and social justice services across the Barwon South West Region of Victoria.

We are looking for local families, couples or single persons who can provide a nurturing home, support and care to children and young people aged between 0-18 years. A tax free reimbursement for expenses is provided, as is training, and 24 hour support.

If you would like to know more about Foster Care please contact Renee Gaulke or Cheryl Flanagan on 1300 361 680.

Headspace, GPs ask: R U OK?

The Region will check the mental health of its community during an annual R u OK? campaign next Thursday.

Headspace Barwon and GP Association of Geelong are proud to have been instigators of the development of the annual campaign to increase community awareness of the prevalence and the positive support available for anyone experiencing mental illness.

The R u OK? campaign has evolved into a national day, spreading the key messages right across Australia.

Due to overwhelming statistics, with more than one million people experiencing depression, anxiety or related alcohol and drug problems, it is vital Geelong continues to take a lead in turn-continue with this important community education initiative we have developed a six-year cyclic approach, with a different teaching focus each year on the topic of mental illness. This year we are emphasising Just Ask," Toni says.

"Asking won't put ideas in their heads. It is in fact a great way to help.

"We encourage everyone in business, school, workplace or communities to hold an event to just ask the important question.

Toni said organisations could register events at www.gpagee-long.com.au/ruok to help Geelong support this unique community education initiative.

"Please inform all your contacts. The more who know, the more that ask, the better it is."

Luxurious, bold Lexus

BY ERIC BLAIR

Lexus' luxury SUV, the LX570 is big, brash and unashamedly a car for the person who wants everything. It can be a lot of things for many people, or at least people with around $150,000 to spend, and a decent sized garage could be useful as well.

Because this is a genuine off-road vehicle, a real people mover with plenty of interior space, and an exceptional tow vehicle.

In particular, the new Lexus has the low noise levels we have come to love in these upmarket Japanese cars for close to two decades now. Even more impressive was the ride comfort, no matter what the road surface the big 4WD simply loped over it with never a sign of it being unsettled.

Few will ever drive a big Lexus off-roader hard at corners but it hangs on pretty well considering it weighs in at close to three tonnes.

Body roll isn't too bad and all occupants will travel securely and safely under all conditions, with spacious room inside. The LX570 is a large people mover that provides comfort for up to eight people all of whom can be adults, though four adults and four children is a more practical arrangement.

Lexus LX models are often used for heavy duty towing, particularly of horse floats. So the latest model has a big 3500kg braked towing capacity.

All you have to do is have the Lexus dealer add a tow-ball, because the rear chassis rail is already a heavy-duty two-bar.

The LX570 has genuine off-road ability. While almost all vehicles in this rarefied class are pretenders that appear to be 4WDs but are really only suited to soft off-road running, the Lexus has a tough body, variable ride height and the latest in mechanical and electronic aids to provide plenty of ground clearance and excellent traction. It really can go places where few others would dare to go.

The dash panel, seats and trim have all been designed specifically for the LX570. Quality leather, genuine timber, metals and carpet are used throughout.

It comes as no surprise that the quality of finish is astonishingly good, the company has been famed for this since day one. The latest LX series is virtually an Unashamed: The big and bold, the latest Lexus off-roader is a superb people mover.

LS series limo with four-wheel-drive capability. Lexus uses two air conditioning units that divide the vehicle into four individual zones to give everyone their own private atmosphere by way of 28 different ventilation outlets.

The 570 in the latest LX's title indicates the capacity of its twin-cam 5.7-litre V8 engine. Though it weighs close to three tonnes, the 270 kW and 530 Nm generated powers this 4WD to 100 km/h in only 7.8 seconds.

The LX570 is certainly no economy machine. Indeed, it's thirsty almost to the point of being anti-social. Our testing

Two air-conditioning units divide the interior into four zones.

Not a car for everyone, but those who do have a good sized bank account and who need a genuinely tough vehicle that can hold a lot of people and their luggage may well find this superbly refined machine from Lexus is exactly what they need.

Jeep a rugged

Trekking: Jeep Wrangler offers the adventurous family some real off-road freedom.

BY ERIC BLAIR

Despite the rapid growth in the number of 4WD/SUV vehicles on the market there are still only about half a dozen vehicles that are capable of handling serious off-road conditions.

When these conditions become ultra-serious the field narrows even further, arguably down to just the Land Rover Defender and the Jeep Wrangler both rough and rugged vehicles with their own distinct pedigree.

Launched in 1987 as the replacement for the long-serving Jeep CJ, Wrangler is the closest direct descendant of the legendary World War II Jeep. Even now, 70 years later, the similarity in appearance between the two vehicles is obvious with its square angular styling, round headlights and characteristic seven-slot grille.

The current Wrangler, released here in 2007, Wrangler is significantly larger than its predecessor and, for the first time comes with the choice between two and four door bodies.

The two-door Wrangler Sport is 133 mm wider and 340 mm longer than the old model while the four-door Wrangler Unlimited is 528 mm longer than the previous two-door. At 2947 mm the Unlimited's wheelbase is 523 mm longer than that of the Sport.

SOME 70 YEAR OLDS DON'T HOLD BACK

Jeep is tougher now than we were back in 1941 when an off-road icon was born. To celebrate we've released a Jeep 70th Anniversary range. Even after 70 years, there's never been a better time to drive a Jeep. Come and share in the celebrations at Geelong City Motors.

70th Anniversary Features:

- Limited edition leather seats
- Renegade pack
- Stainless steel mesh grille
- Exclusive 70th Anniversary badges

Renegade Pack includes:

- 6 Infinity Speakers with Subwoofer
- 6 Disc CD Stacker
- Deep Tint

Real deal: This Jeep is a serious off-roader, not a toy as is the case with an increasing number of so-called 4WDs these days.

Other traditional Jeep features such as external bonnet latches and fold-down front windscreen have been retained, although to improve the vehicle's aerodynamics the windscreen now has the slightest of curves instead of the flat screen used in previous models.

Wrangler comes with the choice of a 3.8-litre V6 petrol engines. Both provide the torque required for the off-road work, 315 Nm at 4000 rpm from the V6 and 460 Nm between 2000 to 2600 revs from the manual diesel (400 Nm from the automatic). Maximum power is 146 kW and 130 kW respectively.

Both Wrangler models come with a six-speed manual gearbox. The four-door Unlimited has a five-speed automatic, the Sport makes do with four-speed.

Safety in the new Wrangler has been improved with the inclusion of four-wheel disc ABS brakes, stability and traction control, dual front airbags and optional side airbags.

Wrangler comes with the choice of soft and hard tops, the latter in three separate sections. Removal of either top is a fully manual operation, no push-buttons here, so give yourself plenty of time to put the top back on again if you see rain clouds in the distance.

The Wrangler's Off-road pack is aimed at the serious four wheel driver and includes for the first time on petrol variants electronically controlled rear axle differential lock, 3.73 axle ratio on manual and automatics, and electronic front sway bar disconnect.

Wrangler was recently upgraded for the 2010 model year with the Off-road

Fully optioned: Both Wrangler models come with a six-speed manual gearbox. The four-door Unlimited has a five-speed automatic, the Sport makes do with four-speed.

pack is now being made available on petrol variants and U-connect multimedia now with a 30 Gb hard disk drive.

Australia is the second largest market for Wrangler outside the USA so the company is treating our market very seriously with the numerous changes announced above being aimed at our local four-wheel drivers' tastes.

By the very nature of being a serious four-wheel drive Wrangler is a compromised vehicle. Its on-road manners are no match for its off-road ability. Saying that, significant steps were taken back in 2007 to improve Wrangler's on-road ride, handling and passenger comfort and it is a far more acceptable proposition than previous models.

There's no doubt that in off-road conditions the Jeep Wrangler really shines and this is witnessed no more so than in the Rubicon. Wheel travel is enormous, the 410 Nm of torque from the diesel/manual variant is more than adequate, the six-speed transmission, with dual-range, meets just about any challenge and clearances are generally not an issue.

The Jeep Wrangler Unlimited, because of the nature of its long wheelbase is more prone to scraping the centre underbody than the shorter wheelbase vehicle as we found in steep climbs that culminated in a sharp angle to reach the plateau. The Rubicon has the lowest crawl speed we have ever encountered in a production 4WD and its ability to both descend extreme hills at snail's pace and rock-hop ascents has to be experienced to be fully appreciated.

Plastic & Fibreglass Bumper repairs

Unit 4, 3 Dowsett St, South Geelong 3220

"Respect your car"

The master of repairs and prevention of damage to any car bumpers

Low-impact collisions typical in shopping centre car parks are annoying to say the least. Add to this the fact that people rarely own up to damaging other people's cars.

It has been noticed that drivers are often scared to back up any further due to very limited vision.

These are the occasions where reverse sensors are very welcome.

Bumper Master fits reversing sensors to help customers overcome fears of backing into objects or even pedestrians.

Reversing sensors help prevent damage to owners' cars as well as the vehicles of neighbours and other motorists.

They can also help when backing out of tight garages and past narrow gateposts. Bumper Master can also help owners improve the appearance of bumpers when selling vehicles.

Bumpers are the first part of any car to incur damage – and first impressions are important when trying to sell. All Bumper Master repairs come with a no-questions-asked warranty to give customers peace of mind.

Best of all, most bumper repairs are done for less than the cost of insurance excesses.

Located behind VicRoads at 3 Dowsett Street, South Geelong, Bumper Master has proven experience in providing an alternative repair service to bumper regions of any car.

Owners wanting to improve the resale value of their cars should phone Bumper Master on 5221 0138.

Before and after pictures of Bumper Master magic.

Gary and Matt from Geelong Aus Dent offers a paintless dent repair service that is a cost-effective way of removing dents and dings.

Paintless dent repairs with Geelong Aus Dent

Aus Dent has been servicing the Geelong area for the past nine years, offering paintless dent repair as a cost effective way of repairing vehicle dents and dings that have not cracked or chipped paintwork.

Geelong's Aus Dent can get the job done right the first time with no sanding, fillers or expensive paintwork.

With award-winning technicians, be assured your car is in good hands.

Paintless dent removal leaves vehicles with the original finish, so there's no mismatched paintwork or repair marks.

Paintless dent removal is also faster than conventional body shop methods and most repairs can be finished in a couple of hours.

The technique is relatively new to Australia but has been used by European car manufacturers like Mercedes Benz and BMW for more than 20 years.

Geelong manager Gary LeGuern says Aus Dent saves time and money.

Aus Dent Geelong offers free quotes and a quality guarantee.

Aus Dent is at 3/100 Barwon Terrace, South Geelong.

Phone 5223 1128 or 0414 638 749 or visit the Aus Dent website at ausdent.com.au.

TRADES BUSINESS PROFILE

MICHAEL KRAGH

Renovations specialist Michael Kragh can help turn homes into castles. An expert in all aspects of carpentry, Michael is the name to call for renovations and extensions. He's also a new-home builder, providing clients with the option of avoiding the same-old big-brand names. Michael has been operating his own business for 18 years, with his industry experience spanning the past three decades. He works in an area covering Geelong, the Surf Coast and Bellarine Peninsula. Michael prides himself on providing personalised, prompt and reliable service. He is available for quotes on any building project. Michael is a registered building practitioner and a Housing Industry Association member, giving clients peace of mind that they're dealing with a professional. Michael Kragh can be contacted by phoning 5229 7989 or 0400 559 677 or emailing mick_3_9@msn.com.

Panthers to pounce on flag

BELL Post Hill and East Geelong meet at St Alban's Reserve on Saturday, with the winner claiming this season's 2011 Geelong and District Football League premiership.

It should surprise no one that these two have made the grand final because they are the standout sides of the year, with only a couple of losses between them during the home-and-away rounds.

Bell Post Hill goes in as slight favourite after beating East both times they met this year.

However, it would be foolish to write off East on this statistic alone.

Leading the way for the Panthers are coach Brent Grgic, Justin Tarr and Matt Jovanovic who offer marking ability around the ground.

The big St Alban's ground lends itself to fast-running sides but it also helps out big forwards who can lead into space and find themselves in one-on-one contests.

East has a few key forwards itself, with league best-and-fairest and goal-kicking award winner

Local Footy

FRANK MASON

Lucas Murphy proving a match winner last week. He gets good support from Ryan Closter and Adam Skrobalak who doesn't mind kicking goals when relieved of ruck duties.

This will be a standout game of local footy, with Bell Post Hill set to make it back-to-back flags after an enthralling game against a worthy challenger.

East Geelong and Anakie clash in the reserves, while North Geelong and Bannockburn fight it out for the under-18s premiership.

Netball grand finals will also be played at St

Alban's, with Winchelsea expected to beat Werribee Centrals in the A-grade final.

GFL

Skilled Stadium hosts a semi-final weekend of Geelong Football League action, with two games scheduled.

Saturday's second semi-final between Bell Park and South Barwon will advance the winner to the grand final and assume premiership favouritism.

Bell Park finished on top of the ladder and has had a hugely successful season but one thing it couldn't do was beat South Barwon. This habit has been evident over a number of seasons and must now be a burden to the Dragons.

Expect that to change on Saturday, with the Dragons drawing a line in the sand and winning well.

Sunday's first semi-final between St Joseph's and Newtown pits the great rivals in a game that will end with the loser out of the finals race.

Newtown beat Colac last week but looked a bit out of sorts, while Joeys was well and truly in the hunt against South Barwon in the qualifying final before succumbing after half-time.

Both sides will be better for having a run at Skilled Stadium but it will be Joeys that wins this one.

BFL

Bellarine Football League plays its preliminary final on Saturday at Drysdale, with Queenscliff and Anglesea playing for the right to take on Amateurs next week for the premiership.

Anglesea surprised many when it beat Ocean Grove last week and looked on song with David Mensch and Christian Robertson showing age has failed to weary them.

It's hard to judge which Anglesea side will take to the field mentally, as the Roo's can be hot or cold.

On the other hand, Queenscliff gives its all week after week and its endeavour can never be questioned.

Anglesea is up and about but the Coutas look a classier outfit and should win a close one.

Anglers on the outer but successful at catching snapper on lure

BRIAN LONG

ANGLERS trolling for snapper hit the big time in the past week, with good numbers taken from the outer harbour.

Terry Knowles trolled the Wilson Spit area to catch four over 4kg each.

Nearby Paul Jeffrie also landed four fish, his best a beauty of 6.7kg.

But the best fish taken for the week on lure was by Danny Skene. At over 7.5kg, they don't get much better in our waters.

Lures getting the results were Dr Evil, Koolie Minnows and Tail Dancers, all of which can dive to 9m plus.

Not to be outdone, Peter Bennet fished the inner-harbour twice for a total seven snapper between 2 and 4kg on fresh pilchards.

Soft plastics anglers found plenty of small snapper from the outer edge of Royal Geelong Yacht Club's wall along with some nice snotty trevalla. Turtleback worms were the best lure.

The Stingaree spoil grounds produced a variety of species, with whiting and small snapper dominating. Both bait and soft plastics were successful.

Salmon were present close to Alcoa Pier, with Paul Sparks trolling the area to catch plenty of fish from 900g to just over 1kg on laser lures.

Joe McMahon found plenty of squid on the inshore grass beds at Hermsley. Most were around 500g but he landed two better than 1kg, with small Yamashita jigs best.

Squid were also taken from St Leonards to Edwards Point, also on small, natural coloured jigs.

Whiting numbers improved, with results coming from Coles Channel all the way to St Leonards. The afternoon tides have been best.

Allure of lures: This outer-harbour snapper had no problem smacking a well-presented lure.

Terry Richmond had a ball catching quality silver trevally in Queenscliff's cut. With the fish nudging 1.5kg, it might be worth fishing the cut with soft plastics an hour either side of high tide.

Salmon were caught in the Barwon River estuary. Andrew Delica found some nice fish over 1kg while using soft plastics.

Offshore waters over 40m produced some good numbers of snapper, with the inshore reefs harbouring small pinkies.

The influx of small snapper offshore has also brought thresher sharks including a few lost on light snapper gear.

Silvio Santori tried trolling Rapala X Rap 30s outside of The Rip this week but failed to land a thrasher, although he hooked two fish estimated around 40kg each.

Surf anglers struggled to find the salmon in calm, clear water along the coast last week. The mouth of the St George River produced fish to 1kg for lure casters, while similar results were reported from Cinema Point.

Freshwater reports improved by the day. Lake Tooliorook returned plenty of trout averaging 1kg, with similar fish taken from Deep Lake and Bostock and West Moorabool reservoirs.

Stuart Osborne fished West Barwon Reservoir where he landed two small rainbow trout but a 2.8kg brown made his day. Stuart used a Lil Ripper lure in the clear minnow colour, finding the fish active late in the afternoon.

Lake Purrumbete continued to produce any number of redfin on ice jigs or bobbers but the trout has had everyone excited. Fish of all sizes have been being taken, with anglers never knowing what will hit their lure or bait next.

Lake Elingamite produced redfin to well over 1kg along with trout close to 2.5kg. Lures were best, especially when slow-trolling small, bibbed offerings such as Rapalas, SX 40s and Cherry Bloods.

Most anglers struggled to land fish from our streams on the official opening of the trout season, with the water still a little discoloured.

However, Corey Gallagher hit Aire River in the Otways where the perfect water conditions yielded small brown trout on offer. Early morning and evening hosted the most activity for Corey's mix of hard-bodied and soft plastic lures.

Conditions looking unfavourable for the weekend but plenty of options remain. Freshwater destinations include Bostock or West Moorabool reservoirs.

Saltwater anglers should work soft plastics along Geelong's waterfront or troll for snapper from North Shore rocks to the silos or the edge of the channel from Point Henry all the way to Clifton Springs.

Send reports and photos to info@raylongtackle.com.au or visit Brian at Ray Long's Fishing World, 105 Shannon Ave, Manifold Heights.
